HIGH QUALITY RAW MATERIAL AND THE LATEST TECHNOLOGY

Sunflower for processing is grown on the arable land of the Company in the Rostov Region, the Stavropol Territory and the Republic of Adygea.

Favorable climatic conditions of these regions make it possible to obtain high-quality raw materials, and the applied technologies and modern equipment make it possible to produce products that meet world standards.

At present, unrefined and refined deodorized bulk and bottled sunflower oil is produced at the oil-extraction factories of the Resource Agribusiness Group.

PRODUCTION SITES

Resource Agribusiness Group carries out the production of natural vegetable oils at its own oil-extraction factories.

The Group's production sites are located in southern Russia. Proximity of production complexes from the seed harvesting sites allows us to minimize the duration of transportation of seeds, which, in turn, favorably affects their quality and, accordingly, provides an opportunity to obtain oil with high consumer properties.

BOTTLED PRODUCTS

Currently, the oil extraction factories of Resource Agribusiness Group produce unrefined and refined deodorized bulk and bottled sunflower oil.

The production of unrefined sunflower oil is a time-consuming multi-stage process. The processing is carried out by the traditional method of soft mechanical pressing of pre-hulled steamed sunflower seeds. Then the unrefined press oil is filtered to obtain a pure product. As a result we get a golden-yellow odorless oil without any specific taste.

TRANSPORTATION

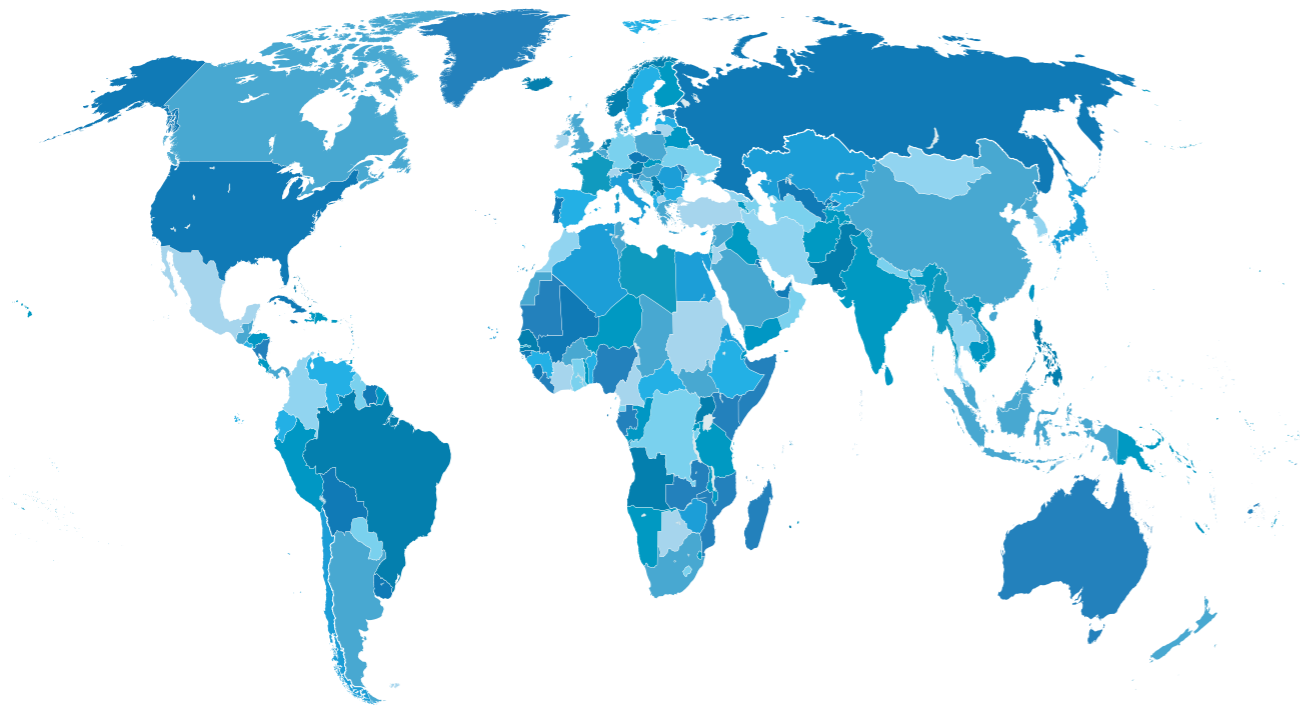

The Company's products are in demand both in the domestic and international markets. They are exported to Europe, Asia and Africa.

The products are delivered on convenient terms for customers, by the specialized automobile or railway transport of the Company, as well as by the transport of the customer. Bulk oil is delivered in shiploads or in small batches in flexitanks through the southern Russian ports.
